

Australian Association for
Infant Mental Health

Sue Morse Scholarship: Infant Mental Health 2026

---

Sue Morse Scholarship - Notes for entrants

The Scholarship

Clinical Supervision for 8 sessions, or up to the value of $1,000, over a 12-month period, and a 12-month membership to AAIMH. In consultation with the sub-committee, the successful applicant will be responsible for negotiating with their chosen supervisor. AAIMH Vic Committee will offer suggestions for potential supervisors when requested.

Terms and conditions of entry:

1. Applicant must be currently working with infants 0-5yrs
2. Applications are to be in English
3. Applications should address the selection criteria and include contact details of a proposed referee.
4. The scholarship is to be utilized, in consultation with the supervisor, within 12 months of being awarded
5. Remote access supervision will be made available to rural and remote winners, or when deemed more appropriate
6. The judges' decision will be final. No further correspondence will be entered into.
7. AAIMHI Victoria will notify the successful applicant and the scholarship will be announced at one of AAIMH quarterly seminars, or at an alternative event as agreed by the AAIMH Vic committee.

The closing date will be Friday 15th May 2026 No late applications will not be accepted.

Australian Association for
Infant Mental Health

Sue Morse Scholarship: Infant Mental Health 2026

Application for AAIMH (Vic) Sue Morse Scholarship

Name: .....

Professional Qualification: .....

Employer: .....

Years of experience in this role: .....

Name and phone number of workplace referee: .....

.....

Selection criteria:

In a word document, please share your response to each of the following requests, and attach it to your application:

1. Please tell us about your work – your role, the professional supports you have and the population of babies/young children (0-5) and families you meet in your workplace.
2. Please tell us about the relationship you have with one of the babies/young children you engage with at work. We will be interested to learn how this relationship developed and your impressions and observations of this infant and his/her family.
3. If granted this scholarship, please describe for us the areas of your practice this age group you would like to explore, strengthen, or develop through the supervision experience.

Please write Sue Morse Scholarship 2026 in the subject line and submit your application by email to: vicpresident@aaimh.org.au